

Due to the manual recount for the 2018 general election, a post-election audit was not required.